  I'm staring at a broken door,
              C              E
              /              /
  There's nothing left here anymore.

  My room is cold,
              Asus4      A
              /              /
  It's making me insane.

              /              /
  Another moment seems to have come,

              /              /      /
  I see the dark clouds coming up again.

              C
              /
  Running through the monsoon,
              D
              /
  Beyond the world,
              Em
              /
  To the end of time,
              Bm
              /
  Where the rain won't hurt.
              /
  Fighting the storm,
              /
  Into the blue,
              Bm              Em
              /              /
  And when I loose myself I think of you,
              C              D (עצירה)
              /              /
  Together we'll be running somewhere new.
              E      C
              /      /
  Through the monsoon.
              E      C
              /      /
  Just me and you.
```

 I see your vision in its light.
 E C Asus4 A
 But now it's gone and left me so alone.

E C
 I know I have to find you now,
 E C E
 Can hear your name, I don't know how.
 C Asus4 A
 Why can't we make this darkness feel like home?
